Impact of ADEA

- Produced over 1200 publications and studies on education issues in Africa
- Led the adoption of Strategic Policy framework on education and endorsed by African Heads of State in 2013
- Succeeded in leading the unanimous adoption of an ADEA-proposed policy guide on the integration of African Languages and Cultures into education by African Education Ministers, leading to the use of mother-tongue instruction in the first three years of school in several African countries
- Influenced the adoption of an Early Childhood Development policy in over nineteen African countries
- Initiated a successful project encouraging mathematics and science education for women and girls through FEMSA
- Conducted EMIS Peer Review which provided an education road map for Botswana, Ghana, Mozambique and Swaziland
- Initiated significant policy reforms as a result of Peer Review in Gabon, Nigeria and Mauritius

ADEA and the African Union (AU)

Capacity Building
- Supported the AU in all eight priority areas of its Plan of Action for the Second Decade of Education for Africa (2006-2015)

Priority Setting
- Strengthened the development of Education Management Information Systems (EMIS) and developed a database of 160 education indicators

Monitoring
- Monitored over 55 indicators linked to the eight priorities of the AU Plan of Action
- Produced Continental and Regional performance reports for decision-making by COMEDAF

Implementing
- Continued cooperation with AU on the new Continental Education Strategy for Africa (CESA 2016-2025), which replaces the Second Decade
- Continued collaboration and strengthening of NEPAD and Regional Economic Communities (RECs)
- Facilitates collaboration among the Ministries in charge of Education, Sciences, Technology and Innovation

ADEA’s Future Plans

- Provide support to AU’s continental priorities within Africa’s Agenda 2063 and 2030 SDG Agenda
- Implement ADEA’s Strategic Medium-Term Plan (2013-2017)
- Design and implement a framework of action for education and training for the development of Africa through the 2017 Triennale
- Collaborate with the ADB (host institution) and support the Bank’s ten year strategy and High Fives
- Lead the African Learning Champions – Network for African Learning Assessment (NALA)
